Introduction

Welcome to your Past Life report. Whereas the birthchart is a symbolic road map describing your current life, the Past Lives chart is a blueprint of your previous incarnations. The pages that follow will help shed some light on themes related to your past life instincts. First, let's talk about reincarnation which is the belief that the current incarnation (as depicted by our birthchart) is linked to the lives that we have previously led. This collection of past influences points to particular experiences you might encounter again so that you can further your growth and fully develop your creative potential. These past impressions go far in shaping many of our current thoughts and choices. There are certain gifts a person seems to possess right out of the womb! It's as though destiny or fate leads one to realize these attributes. Of course, we still have to show ambition and make the effort in order to keep our dreams alive. This report may give confirmation to talents that you already know you have or open your eyes to ones that you have yet to discover.

Our past lives are alive and well in our consciousness. This may already be apparent to you. But on the other hand, these experiences can lie beyond the threshold of our conscious mind's awareness. What is doing the remembering, if our mind isn't? Call it your soul, higher consciousness or whatever explanation feels right to you.

Have you ever heard about karma, that great law of cause and effect? An old timeless saying sums up the whole process: "You reap what you sow." There are actions and thoughts that defined us in other lives, or have guided us to where we are in the present. They don't really exert any control over us. We have freedom of choice. That's a strong message to remember when reading this report.

Also, don't panic if you read something that says you were not a perfect person. Nobody is in the current one! Use the report as a learning tool. The idea is to keep developing and evolving. It's balancing the cosmic rhythm of past and present that presents each of us with a challenge. Do we respond positively or negatively? With hope or doubt? Many of our tendencies are linked to previous incarnations. Certain patterns have likely been by our side over many lifetimes. As we grow and expand our awareness, it becomes very possible to step beyond the trappings of past life baggage.

No doubt you will read various sections that seem to contradict each other. Each could be true about you. It's important to realize that many different dimensions of ourselves live within us. Each of us is composed of memories from so many past lives, combined with an assortment of ways we have learned to deal with reality in this life, that make us complex beings. See which descriptions ring true to you as you read through the following pages. You will notice some traits described have a repeating theme.

I hope you find this report an enjoyable ride into your past life instincts and thought patterns. They are somewhere in your consciousness. Perhaps some of what you read will strike a familiar chord. After all, these pages are all about your past life loves, creative pursuits, adventures, travels, highs and lows, over many lifetimes. Happy navigating!

The Past Life Chart Structure

Some technical explanations about the Past Life chart (if you detest technical discussions, then skip this paragraph and jump right into the report!). The Ascendant in this chart starts with the sign on the cusp of the 12th house, instead of the traditional method of using the sign on the 1st house cusp, which is the sign rising on the eastern horizon at the time of birth. Also, the Past Life birthchart houses are counted clockwise, rather than the conventional way of counterclockwise. In other words, since the 12th house becomes the Ascendant, the sign on the cusp of the 11th house now begins the 2nd house, etc., around the chart wheel. What is considered the Ascendant or 1st house in the traditional chart becomes the 12th in the Past Life chart. Your planets remain in the same sign placements, but now occupy different houses, in this new chart. The planets in signs are interpreted in your report from a past lives perspective.

Something interesting to consider in thinking of the houses in a clockwise direction, they are actually now moving in the same direction as the Nodes of the Moon. As you will read in the report the Moon's nodes are strong past life or karmic points in a chart. Their retrograde motion is clockwise meaning they share the same life biorhythms as the houses of the Past Life chart. By traveling backward, or clockwise, through the houses, you are being regressed back into a past life analysis. Enjoy your ride down memory filled lanes!

The Passport

In this section are the first, middle and last names of your Past Lives astrological identity, the Sun, Moon, and Past Lives Ascendant. Each of these three building blocks will be discussed as to how they actively shaped many of your former lives. But before you meet these three key players, you will start your tour through memory lane with the North Node of the Moon. The North Node contains a special message about what was your overall life purpose. It was a constant rhythm pulsating in your consciousness to keep you on target toward your true purposes. It was a celestial compass trying to guide you to walk your talk with greater clarity. So sit back, and enjoy reading your past lives primer.

Node in Scorpio

You had a history of seeking empowering partnerships and the deepest levels of self-mastery possible. One of your key impulses was learning the art of negotiation. Your soul was normally in no hurry to reincarnate, knowing that life was a great process, and things unfolded in their own time. The archetypal theme for your destiny was to be an intensifier. A crucial lesson was not to rock the boat when it wasn't needed. Tuning into your true power kept you from overly indulging in this behavior.

You needed to express your forcefulness rather than give into the easy road. A trickster was settling for the surface appearance of things rather than delving deeper. It found you avoiding the tough choices. Getting lost in various sensual or physical appetites was your way of running from conflict. Finding a way to balance a need to express your emotional intensity with a grounded anchor to reality was important to your physical and psychological health. You sometimes stubbornly held onto what you valued or cherished. Exciting individuals and challenging experiences brought out your passion and deepest emotional outbursts. You needed to know you had the money and resources to accomplish your desired aims. Your will power snowballed when finding love and acceptance from others.

Node in 9th house

What types of activities did you participate in that furthered your soul growth? Exploring the farthest reaches in search of adventure and knowledge was usually the first course in front of you. You did get frantic if you got worried over too many details. Though stopping long enough to zoom in with a pair of binoculars did save wasting time and energy. A common concern was "how can I find the time to travel all of the paths in my imagination?" When you walked your talk with a sense of realistic limits you managed to stay out of karma's way. What sorts of experiences motivated you? There were those spontaneous explosions to try uncharted territory just for the heck of it. Your energy levels peaked when following your inspiration to rise above a challenge. If you became either too doubtful or unreasonably optimistic, you paid a price. When you stayed open to alternative thinking, it kept you on track as much as too finely sifting through someone else's ideas drew their ire. Somewhere always hiding in the caverns of your memory banks was a long-range vision mixed with a grasp of the immediate reality. When using this wisely and perceptively, life was colored by skipping merrily along, not worrying so much about what couldn't be changed, and rejoicing in the new horizon waiting ahead.

Sun: Creativity, Ego, Self-expression

Sun in Aries:

The sign of Aries, the ram, lighted the early-spring astrological skies at your birth into this life. Let's explore what significance this had in regard to your past lives. In traditional astrology, the keyword phrase for Aries is "I am". You had a pattern of making a strong statement about your identity. This isn't saying you had a confused self-image, lifetime after lifetime. The old saying: "don't say yes when you mean no" applied here. Assertiveness training was something that followed you from one incarnation to another.

An archetype for Aries is the Warrior. Another is the daredevil. Finding the courage to express yourself directly was the challenge. How did you respond? If you hid your true needs, then you didn't reach your goals. Then again, if you overreacted by blowing everyone out of your way, you didn't have any friends.

The cosmic principle at work through many of your past incarnations was to act first and reflect later. Within you are confident memories that catapult you to overcome obstacles. Also, there are memories of times when you abused your forcefulness, intimidating others. You found ego strength when moving ahead with a conscious awareness of your own creative force. You came into this life solarized through a sign promoting boldness. This was a theme that ran throughout your incarnations and was a key to your self-mastery. It was when you exercised focus and discipline that this energy was turned into a real winner!

Sun in 3rd house

You had solar power that went right through your mental processes in previous lives. It radiated out curiously and quickly, taking advantage of new learning opportunities. You enjoyed a sense of pride in your communication ability. People responded to your confident ideas. Your creative vitality became awakened when slipping out of the usual routines. Repetitive thinking bored you in a hurry. Changing circumstances delighted you.

If there was a challenge, it was getting distracted by walking in too many directions simultaneously. It's not that you couldn't do this successfully. You did at times lose your focus. Your perceptions were your key to opening doors of opportunity. Bouncing concepts off of the minds of others was stimulating. The exchange of information with peers or colleagues made you feel invigorated. Experiences that offered diversity were pleasing. Insightful ideas lived brightly through you. Your self-expression found inspiration through travel and education. A change of scenery was your way of keeping problems in perspective. The world responded positively to your energizing mental outlook, but less favorably when you seemed scattered. Channeling nervous energy into productive outlets was rewarding. You found fulfillment in influencing positive change in others.

Moon: Sense of Security, Roots, Feelings

Moon in Taurus:

You were lunarized at birth through the sign of Taurus. What does this say about your past life tendencies? An instinctual desire to find emotional stability typified many of your incarnations. The family ancestries in past lives were linked by a motivation to build reliable avenues that paved the way for a steady future. You believed in the power of money. This isn't saying you were necessarily ruled by your material desires. Only that you had a healthy respect for wealth. Business sense followed you from one life to another.

Your inner landscapes were colored by a love of serenity and beauty. Stress didn't fit into your plan. This was especially true of your home as you went out of your way to ensure its tranquility. Artistic and musical ability was shown regularly. Family members saw you as a stabilizing force.

Inertia was a challenge. More frequently when this manifested it was due to a loss of hope. A fear of losing what you owned is what got your adrenaline pumping. Sometimes you were accused of being possessive. When you fell in love with someone, it's true that you wanted it to be for keeps. When people showed they valued you, it made you feel on top of the world. Your subconscious called to you to pace yourself slowly, taking the time to enjoy the moment.

Moon in 2nd house

You had intuitive power regarding money in past lives. Playing it safe to ensure you didn't lose what you owned was a concern. You instinctually knew how to put your resources to work wisely, which gave you a greater sense of security. You had intuitive instincts about investments.

You valued family. Possessive people you tended to resist. You found not being too dependent on others left you with greater autonomy. You had to watch out for growing too possessive. There was a great desire for peace. Stress was not tolerated for long as it made you uneasy. Though you had to watch out for inertia. You preferred maintaining a serene mood. You displayed persistence along with a stubborn streak. You had a strong inner determination when confronted by an obstacle. A feeling to be momentarily secure outweighed the risk-taker in you. You were drawn to experiences that energized your creative imagination.

Ascendant: Persona, Identity, Calling Card

Gemini on Ascendant:

With the sign Gemini as your past lives Ascendant, moving in a few directions simultaneously often colored your incarnations. The mental side of life was usually well developed. Your perceptions of people were startling accurate. Your nervous system tended to live on the edge. Sometimes it was due to a compulsive desire to devour as many experiences as possible to the point of mental exhaustion. You appreciated people with intelligence. You grew bored with people taking too long to make a point. You enjoyed clear communication. Sitting still for long periods of time made you uneasy. Looking out with a pair of curious and eager eyes colored your incarnations. An inner restlessness was an integral part of your mental chemistry. It usually played a major role in motivating you to seek change. Others saw you as intelligent and as thinking fast on your feet. A challenge was learning how to stay focused. A tendency to change directions quickly sometimes interfered with your being able to stick with long-term projects. You displayed a fast and creative mind.

The Quest

Mercury: Communication, Perceptions and Logic

Mercury in Aries

You were Mercurialized at birth through the sign of Aries pointing to action-oriented mental impulses in past lives. Being direct in speech was your communication style.

Patience was your big challenge. Timing a change was either done with precision, or you looked like someone lost, badly in need of directions. A courageous streak to blaze new trails found you wanting to go in search of that Northwest Passage to new vistas. Listening wasn't one of your greatest talents, unless the discussion was about your own plans. When you found ways to focus this intense mental energy you were delightfully stimulating to be around. Angry disputes were your way of playful sparring. Though you did wear out your nervous system now and then. You could spill out ideas as fast as Superman flew with lightning speed through the skies. Repeating an action due to lack of foresight did irritate you and sometimes those closest to you. Your mental outlook was brighter as long as you perceived that there were plenty of immediate goals on your plate.

Mercury in 3rd house

Your perceptions moved excitedly, giving you instant scans of whatever you encountered. Sometimes you wished you didn't get so bombarded by so many stimuli. You curiously looked out at the world anxious to explore anything even resembling an information highway. Your mind was always set to the ready-alert position to anticipate the next move to be made. Communication was a way of seeking greater stimulation. Your insights into a wide variety of situations came in handy. You regularly impressed people with your interesting way of getting a message across.

You didn't like being told there was one acceptable way of doing things. Activities that gave you plenty of diversification were enjoyable. Repetitive routines made you uneasy. Some accused you of leaving jobs undone due to lack of focus. You excelled in creating shortcuts, even if once in a while you left out a few tedious details.

Venus: Relationships, Values, Comfort.

Venus in Aquarius

With the love goddess adorning you through the sign of Aquarius at birth, you came from past lives where you were in search of independently minded lovers. Many people experienced you as symbolizing freedom and uniqueness. Your social instincts were colored with a hue of spontaneity and a fondness for shocking others.

The ideal soul mate was someone able to appreciate your unique insights and willing to treat you as an equal. You were attracted to lovers able to appreciate an element of surprise and to those with a way of exciting your mind. Your relationships sometimes began in unusual ways. Rebelling against restrictions imposed upon you occurred often throughout your past lives history. Working in cutting edge professions made you feel alive. You liked working among inventive minds. Leaving behind jobs that stifled your thinking was a pattern. You did need to watch a tendency to grow too sarcastic and aloof. You detested institutions that stood for hypocrisy. Leaving behind stable lifestyles to take a chance on a risky one was a constant temptation. Being different just to be different got you into trouble.

Your future goals kept you motivated. Your romantic fulfillment depended on finding a mate with a refreshing unconventional approach to life, and having a shared desire to walk a talk that allowed for a few broken rules.

Venus in 5th house

You were vivacious when interacting socially, energizing those coming into contact with you. You tended to be a driving force in relationships, inspiring others to be more confident. Dramatic lovers got your attention, as much as your outgoing ways got to them. You were a true romantic. There was a creative presence that emanated from you. It made people take notice. You were sensitive about receiving attention. Your strength got a big boost from those believing in you. The big dilemma occurred when they didn't.

Some accused you of being too bossy, though you called this speaking your mind. You needed strong partners able to stand their own ground, not feeling threatened by your successes. When you didn't grow jealous of the fame and good fortune of others, you were easier to live with. Your peers found you to be fun loving and full of vitality. They themselves stimulated you to go beyond your comfort zones. You were risk-taking. Gambling when the odds were against you was a regular reality. You valued having a sense of pride in your creative self-expression. When individuals included you in key decisions they made you feel valuable. Helping open doors of opportunity for those you loved, so they could realize their potential, meant a lot to you.

Mars: Assertion, Courage, Identity

Mars in Aquarius

What would a warrior planet in the air sign of Aquarius mean regarding your past lives? An innate fast-paced energy that wasn't afraid to do a somersault or two when pursuing your goals. Your initiating impulse was electrified by the excitement the future awakened in you. Yesterday's dreams weren't nearly as important as tomorrow's possibilities. This didn't always go over well with those depending on you in the present. Then again your eccentric and unusual way of doing things made you unique. Could you exercise any patience? Yes, if someone could get a lasso around you long enough to get you interested in their way of thinking. There was a tendency at times to intellectualize so much that you didn't act on an idea. This was good when it turned out that foresight kept you out of harm's way. It backfired if you kept missing new opportunities. A competitive streak became airborne when you expressed your ideas in a feisty way to ward off your critics. You did like to think of ingenious ways to out perform others.

Your identity soared to new heights when you found the freedom you required, and when discovering ways to express your most profound individuality. A revolutionary type you were. You weren't so easily angered unless the toes of your personal autonomy were being stepped on. A nervous disposition and a bit of accident proneness did occur when you felt overwhelmed by out of control circumstances. You were quick to get back on track if the lifestyle you were accustomed to was reestablished. When you moved with a sense of direction and purpose your actions were never far from their intended mark.

Mars in 6th house

You took initiative when it came to learning more efficient ways to perform a job. The catch was you really had to have your interest captured, or you fought learning details. Your adrenaline got pumping through working at something you thoroughly enjoyed. A competitive side was summoned when others doubted your ability. This made you want to prove them wrong, unless their criticism got the best of you. Fighting to defend your causes was a repeating pattern. What made you become territorial? When people tried to enslave you to narrow options. Though it must be said a regular schedule kept you mentally balanced and physically healthier.

Impatience kept you from mastering what you were trying to perfect. Developing consistent effort turned out to be the key to success. When you lacked patience, you did grow overly critical of yourself and others. Assertiveness was not all that spontaneous. This was either due to humility or extreme lack of confidence. You did show more directness as you grew comfortable with your identity. Anger stemmed more from frustration with things not going according to a plan. You calmed down when you regained your perspective or distracted yourself away from worry. You especially tended to fight against individuals you didn't respect in professional arenas.

Jupiter: Knowledge, Expansion, Philosophy, Travel

Jupiter in Libra

Having Jupiter, the planet of good fortune, in the sign of Libra indicates you were excited by the people connections you made. You were a net-worker, whether living in a small medieval hamlet or a modern metropolis. Making up your mind was the biggest challenge. Knowledge was your ticket to a more promising tomorrow. You chose to expand your potential through a wide assortment of friends. A positive attitude guided you to meet the right individuals and to move into stimulating social circles. You sometimes tried too hard to please others, rather than pleasing yourself. Meeting lovers gave your creative expression a boost. When you perceived who was the right type of romantic partner, you experienced less disappointment. Your belief in others brought out their best. It was your overconfidence in some individuals that got you into trouble. Conflict bothered you, so you liked to resolve differences quickly. You were a strong believer in fairness and ethics. You felt luckier when you followed your own instincts toward the life paths that spoke to you for exploration. When maintaining a broad perspective you missed out on less of life's beauty and found the doors to opportunities ready to be opened.

Jupiter in 9th house

A positive and enterprising outlook influenced you to seek expansive truths that kept the door open to a never-ending search for adventure. All roads led to Rome was a mantra. You tended to bite off more than you could chew. Promising too much in the form of overconfidence occurred. The urge to see life from various perspectives caused you to delay in concentrating on any one path. Spontaneity was a life force in your eyes. You had definite opinions about right and wrong. You were likeable when not judgmental. Writing and speaking were powerful tools in your hands. Preaching what you believed either won you approval or met with considerable resistance by those disagreeing. Travel for pleasure or learning, were equally enjoyed. You liked becoming intoxicated by the people and scenery of distant places. People became energized by your innocent enthusiasm. You feared growing old in mind, more than you worried about the physical. Luck smiled favorably upon you when you were willing to act on your beliefs. Good fortune came through not blindly following in other's footsteps, and in not losing sight of the trees by concentrating too much on the forest.

The Journey

Saturn: Ambition, Seriousness, Focus, Responsibility

Saturn in Sagittarius

Ambition came through you enthusiastically, says your past lives history, with Saturn placed in the adventurous sign of Sagittarius. Discipline was another matter. You didn't commit to anything that interfered with your freedom to roam the world in search of greater opportunities. Your greatest fear was being put into confining situations. Knowing where the exits were located was your first concern if you sniffed out a potentially frustrating path. There was a keen interest in education and religion.

A karmic shadow was self-doubt. Embracing a positive attitude made you more successful. You often defined yourself through communication and teaching-oriented professions, and as someone with great integrity.

Saturn in 7th house

What was your main focus? It was relationships, whether romantic or otherwise. You consistently asked at crucial points during an incarnation: how do I develop meaningful and mutually beneficial partnerships? Knowing your boundaries in relating to others gave you a sense of control. Rigidity in trying to change others sometimes produced karmic woes. The antidote was greater flexibility in this area, that is, when you were determined not to repeat the same old lessons needing to be learned.

A shadow was trying to overly please. Indecision was the result. You compromised yourself to the point of becoming confused. Clear definition in your expectations of others, and they of you, was important. Life taught you to be careful about commitments in that you needed balance. A fear of love was not the way to finding a soul mate. Though leaning too heavily on someone might get you into trouble. It was in learning how to create stable unions that you discovered fulfillment. A major redefining regularly occurred in lifetimes associated with reality testing. You needed to ascertain who were true allies. Wisdom came through being reasonable in your search for the right partnerships, and in seeing you couldn't make everyone happy all of the time.

Uranus: Individuality, Goals, Uniqueness, Freedom

Uranus in Leo

You had a tendency to react dramatically about future goals, which indicates Uranus in the sign Leo. Your mind did switch to fast forward when imagining how to express yourself creatively. People couldn't help but notice your ideas, as they often were communicated in a lively manner. You didn't excel in seeing how to include others in major decisions, but did do better with practice.

Inventiveness was a trait that made you proud of yourself. If others didn't openly show their appreciation for your original ideas, you did grow quite upset. You inspired people to make the most of their talents. Even lovers benefited from your ability to see where they may have had hidden ability. Maintaining a sense of direction made you feel that the world was your oyster and that surely the love and rewards you sought would find you.

Uranus in 12th house

In what way were you unconventional? Higher or spiritual beliefs were far different than the norm, actually downright mystical. You had futuristic vision that relied heavily on your intuition. It was through your faith that you reinvented yourself, which was often in the midst of dealing with a major crisis. A sense of direction was paramount in keeping you grounded. You had a tendency to drift away from reality. Going off on a tangent was your way of being an individual. You heard a calling that nobody else was listening to. You did need to watch that you didn't get so far out there that you became lost in causes lacking reality. You rebelled inwardly more than outwardly, unless becoming very passionate about an objective. Going into fast forward occurred when you fell in love. You didn't always pick the right partners due to unclear boundaries and dependency needs. Occasionally you were with a lover too needy and at other times you fell in love with unpredictable types. You liked the inspiration a soul mate provided. You were moody if perceiving that a new plan would stifle your creative spontaneity. Also, when someone's ideas clashed with your idealism, you sought to escape. Selfless service was fulfilling, but you did need to be careful if those receiving your best weren't deserving of this. You were inventive when you became emotionally disengaged, or mentally objective. Unique ideas flowed when you were at ease with a true feeling of purpose.

Neptune: Idealism, Romanticism, Intuition, Dreams, Escapism

Neptune in Scorpio

You believed in ideals that spoke to the passion within you.

Your idealism was awakened through finding symbols that gave you a sense of rebirth. Crisis situations were the catalyst that made you use your intuition. The mystical forces of the universe often spoke to and through you. It was not unusual for you to go on silent retreats where you went into deep meditative experiences. Romance had its highs and lows. Balancing the extremes was important. You liked passionate relationships with a bit of mystery surrounding them. Though eventually you often looked for a comforting bond. A lack of trust caused you emotional upheavals. It was reassuring when you found a lover understanding your innermost needs.

A major challenge was addiction to love, sex, and other forms of escape. This isn't saying you always fell into these behaviors. When you found the clarity and strength to channel this intensity positively, life was more enjoyable. You wanted from the deepest part of your soul to create a life that reflected your self-mastery. You had strong dedication to those you loved and a determination to show the world your talents. You found transcendental growth through dealing with unfinished business from the past, and walking forcefully toward the challenges you instinctually knew would scare and fulfill you at the same time.

Neptune in 9th house

In what way were you extra intuitive? It was in regard to having long range outlooks. You could see miles and miles ahead of many. It was those nasty little details that were a nuisance. Going to foreign places and meeting people from various locations mesmerized you. It was getting out of your home terrain that made you feel special. Your idealism caused you to seek growth through education and learning. You had a strong inclination to teach. Sharing your understanding with others was fulfilling. Being a counselor or advisor came naturally.

A test was in not becoming so expansive that you never focused on immediate needs. You were accused of lacking commitment. Though you rationalized this as being distracted by other interests. You did often manage to reach great heights when you felt the inspiration of your beliefs. When you tapped into a positive attitude it wasn't easy to talk you out of a choice, whether a good one or bad. Your spirituality was usually cherished. You had an eclectic belief system. What was the biggest challenge? It was in how you responded after an extreme disappointment. Not wanting to face your loss of hope made matters worse. Faith transformed your denial into a renewed positive thinking. You searched for a purpose that had open-ended questions that gave you the opportunity to keep seeking growth-promoting answers.

Pluto: Personal Power, Self-mastery, Rebirth, Loss, Passion

Pluto in Virgo

Empowering yourself through using analytical ability was a past lives tendency. Perfection drove you on to try to do great things. Being reasonable in your expectations was wise. Extreme worry was sometimes a downfall. Curbing this tendency did make you happier and allowed for greater productivity. Charisma was exhibited through working forcefully at whatever you made your life mission. Escaping into projects made you less nervous. There was a habit of putting your heart and soul into a cause.

There was a shadow. What was it? Criticism. You could spot if something was out of place in a second. You did at times overly pick apart yourself or others. When you got this one under control, good fortune was never far away. Self-mastery was discovered through deciphering the ways to work smarter rather than harder. You found rebirth or a sense of fulfillment when overcoming negative thought patterns, and seeing that altered perceptions were truly miracles.

Pluto in 10th house

How did you go about seeking personal empowerment? It was through finding roles that allowed you to control your own destiny. Though you had to exercise wise use of power! A renewed sense of purpose was discovered through reassessing what were the most important things in life. Your profession did become all consuming. There were leadership roles that put you in the line of fire of formidable adversaries. You liked influencing the outcome of decisions by manipulating them into your favor. Betrayals bothered you. A powerful self-examination manifested itself if you suffered a critical defeat, or you lost those closest to you. There was a pattern of intense power struggles. A compulsive tendency to fear change got you to ask thought-provoking questions. A shadow frequently followed you into incarnations related to fearing vulnerability. When you did trust a confidante, life was more fulfilling. You liked to show your strength. Others often depended heavily on it.

Footnotes

You have already been introduced to the ten planets. Certain planetary pairs in your chart have a special relationship to one another due to particular angular distances separating them, known as aspects. You could say the two planets in an aspect travel and interact together along the same circuit. The following aspects will be listed under five types. Two are known as the soft aspects: the sextile (60 degrees) and trine (120 degrees). These two aspects generally point to more gentle themes, and therefore will describe past life trends that went very well for you. They indicate a lower voltage of electricity and produced less friction in your mind and through your actions. The planets involved in a trine or sextile are more likely to talk about areas where you flowed without much effort.

The more hard or intense aspects are the conjunction (0 degrees), square (90 degrees) and opposition (180 degrees). They required your best understanding in past lives. Planets that are part of an intense aspect you will notice often indicate lessons that must be learned, and follow us from one incarnation into another until we get them in balance. These higher voltage aspects don't mean the planets operated negatively, only that there was much more force behind them. "Soft" does not mean good and "intense" does not imply bad. It is often the more intense aspects that deepen our soul growth, that is, if we learn how to use their power wisely. If we don't it's like taking one step forward and three back.

It might be helpful to keep some keywords in mind for the aspects. The sextile represents Excitation and Eagerness. The planets in this aspect give clues as to how their energies worked in a stimulating way through you. The trine is a special Harmony. The two planets involved show you were confident of their interacting energies. The conjunction is where two planets are joined at the hip. There is a Fusion or powerful blending of these energies. The square can reveal where you encountered Friction. Pay special attention to these aspects in particular because they denote themes that are strong past patterns. Squares ask us to resolve their conflict by finding creative outlets. The opposition requires a Balancing act. It is similar to a seesaw. Gaining objective awareness about each planet is a key. Remember, it was usually the most intense aspects that stretched you the most in past lives.

Moon square Mars

You often went to war fast if your sense of security was threatened. Defending those you loved was another sensitive area. Courage came occasionally in the midst of great fear. Dealing intuitively with adversaries became necessary to make sure you were a winner. Skirmishes with those trying to impede your growth tested your initiating spirit. Quarrels did occasionally become draining. Learning how to speak up for you and demanding acceptance came with this territory. Knowing when to be patient and when to move forward swiftly took a lifetime to understand. Being angry wasn't really the problem as much as making peace afterwards with those you cared about. When you held less grudges or blaming attitudes, life was smoother.

Moon oppose Jupiter

You liked people with a positive attitude. It didn't hurt if they shared your philosophical beliefs either. Others sometimes accused you of caring too much and giving unsolicited advice. Knowing your boundaries in relationships kept you from trusting the wrong individuals. This wasn't an easy lesson to learn. Travel in order to see how others lived was a thrill. Your imagination captured the minds of those looking for a broader perspective. Romance accelerated the growth of your intuition.

Moon square Uranus

Emotional upheavals were a pattern. You needed a lot of space in close relationships. When you were successful in sustaining long term commitments there was still much space needed. Getting bored easily made it a must to find freedom-oriented living conditions. You rebelled quickly against being controlled. You liked surrounding yourself with new trends and progressive minds.

Moon oppose Neptune

You tended to overly idealize people and causes. This took some serious reality checking to ensure you found the right partners and suitable roles. Falling in love was a regular high, inspiring you to great creative heights. You were intuitive about people you met. It was your imagination that at times painted unreal pictures. It wasn't hard to convince others you could fulfill their dreams, whether you actually did or not. You lived your feelings out through partners if not expressing them yourself, and they did the same for you. Dealing with guilt was a key to happiness. You couldn't save the world from its problems, though you didn't see this immediately. Your idealism produced great things. It was expectations that needed to be reasonable. You were not happy when emotionally disoriented, but on top of the world when finding the paths and loves that were intoxicating.

Moon trine Pluto

You weren't afraid of much because you halfway expected what was coming. Instinctually you knew how to outmaneuver most obstacles. Family relationships were close and trusting. The mysteries of life spoke to and through you quite often. Perhaps if there was a drawback it was lacking the intensity to move in a new direction when the cosmos was saying to do so. Though you usually caught on later and made up for lost time in a hurry. You were good at converting negatives into positives. When you cared about someone, they knew it was real. You did fight to preserve the truths that made you feel truly alive.

Moon oppose Node

You usually linked with a partner when you were hoping to get support for your life directions. You never really liked to go it alone. This doesn't mean you had no independence. It's only saying your intuitive energies often got stimulated through your people connections.

You did need to keep those dependency needs balanced. It was better when you didn't try to derive all of your meaning out of a relationship

Moon trine Midheaven

There was luck in landing in the right town at the right time. Your intuition told you when and where to move, that is, if you quieted down enough to hear it. Passivity did water down your ambition, now and then. Overall you normally enjoyed a stable home life along with worthwhile work.

Sun square Saturn

You needed to be careful about creating your own obstacles. Forcing things to happen required wise discretion. There were occasions when putting out your most intense energy got the job done. Knowing the difference between trying to excessively control the outcome of a situation, and turning in your best effort was important. You sometimes let reality be too much your teacher, putting your dreams on hold. Then again, this was often due to circumstances imposed on you. Responsibility didn't allow you the luxury of much free time. You did become good at getting much done in short periods of time. Your determination and patience were intense. Delayed gratification made you appreciate whatever you did receive. Problems with authority figures were not uncommon. You needed to be sure not to become too bossy in your own right. You made a good leader when the going got tough. You became a workaholic now and then. Making time for pleasurable escapes kept you balanced.

Sun trine Uranus

You had big hopes that the future would revive your life. Sometimes you had unrealistic goals, expecting too much. Your self-confidence made others believe in you. You liked being around thought-provoking individuals. You were more of a unifier than a divider. This doesn't mean you couldn't rebel, only that the impulse wasn't so strong. You had a relaxed vision about the future, trusting that everything worked out for the best.

Mars square Jupiter

Your actions tended to draw strong reactions. Waiting for just the right time wasn't your way. Too much confidence made you take chances that defied the odds. Sometimes you won anyway, and there were times you lost big. Gambling was in your blood. Playing it safe never entered your mind. Senseless arguing without any clear purpose wasted a lot of time and energy. You got your best mileage out of this one when you were moving toward a purpose. It was then that you had amazing energy to pour into your favorite interests. Exaggerating your potential was not so wise. People believed in you when living up to your promises. Restlessness was immense. You traveled and studied ferociously to stay preoccupied.

Mars oppose Uranus

Getting to know individuals unafraid to step beyond conventional rules was exciting. You enjoyed the company of people stimulating you to go beyond your comfort zones. Romances began fast and in surprising ways. This wasn't the side of you that believed in long term commitments. More like short affairs, or two ships passing in the night. You were known as someone with an experimental mind. You thrived on freedom. When giving it up too easily, you felt very lost. If you became too much the taker, partnerships were out of balance. You needed freedom-oriented friends and lovers. Time away from routines energized you. Breaking off commitments without any notice didn't win you any support or friends. When you managed to strongly go after your own goals without losing sight of those of the people you loved, life was less of a roller coaster ride. Stability didn't come easily. You found greater peace when balancing your actions with insight.

Mars square Neptune

Actions fueled by idealism was a key ingredient in your lives. You didn't really wait around for your intuition to guide you as much as leaped first and reflected later. Was this a good impulse? Much depended on the results! You were a bit lost without a cause. Something was needed to inspire your dreams. You were careless in ignoring the danger signs. Getting fooled by the illusion of fame and romance did occur. The interesting thing is that you sometimes stumbled upon great creative expression when chasing after an impossible rainbow. You felt empty without intense challenges. Even when settling into a normal routine, outlets that let you fulfill idealistic striving was needed. Your energy levels went from hot to cold quickly. Your moods could swing in unpredictable ways, depending on your happiness levels. Anger came out by the bucket full if held back for long periods of time. When you had faith you weren't as likely to choose escapism.

Mars square Node

When you veered too far from the right paths, life slapped you in the face. It was a wake up call. When walking your talk, clearly the conflict wasn't as abrupt. Living in extremes could occur before you knew what happened. You had a tendency to move fast instinctively, which sometimes worked beautifully. There were occasions when you had to retrace your steps due to lack of foresight. You caused many of your battles through unconscious actions that infuriated others. Though in all fairness, even when you were as clear as the brightest sunshiny day, enemies challenged your strength. There were lives where you withdrew from struggles. The burnout or exhaustion was replaced with a revitalized self. You had a knack for sensing danger on the horizon. This made you better prepared to defend yourself. A spiritual awakening changed you drastically making you desire to take a burning intensity to a higher level of expression.

Jupiter conjunct Neptune

You dreamed big! A tremendous idealism and imagination caused you to try the impossible. Inspiring others was your forte. You did easily become disillusioned with the imperfection of the world. Running away from your shadows is what you needed to watch. A spiritual presence usually tried to make its presence known to you. If you got lost in trying to be rich and famous, the mystical forces of the universe had to wait. You had a way of getting people to do what you wanted through persuasion and offering them deals they couldn't refuse. When you looked to a higher power, your experiences were powerful. Symbols spoke to and through you. There was the inner vision to see the future before it came. Knowing your limits was a key to happiness.

Jupiter conjunct Node

When you incarnated it was with enthusiastic purpose. More than one road definitely took you to Rome or wherever you were inspired to go! You had a vision that kept growing wider as you discovered your potential. Haphazardly following in the footsteps of those purposely leading you astray took away from your mission. When you grew lazy and too intoxicated by the good life, you needed moderation. When too negative, you reached for the heavens to show you how to think positively. A great faith did help you through the tough times. An adaptable nature brought you luck. The never- ending search for adventure made life exciting.

Saturn trine Pluto

There was wisdom shown in being patient. If there was lack of ambition it was due to thinking that something just wasn't worth the effort. You usually conserved your energies quite well. You were smooth as a negotiator. Good common sense took you far. Taking life's ups and downs in an even keel manner made for happier times.

Saturn trine Midheaven

Your sense of timing was better than most. You were not in the habit of forcing the outcome of situations. Ambition was expressed with an ease that in some respects hid your real intensity.

Saturn oppose Ascendant

Clear definition regarding relationships was what you desired. Letting others get close took time. You didn't like rushing into partnerships. Even in regard to romance you had a sober attitude. This kept you from entering partnerships too compulsively. A fear of closeness did interfere with your happiness occasionally. Though in many instances this simply meant you wanted to get to know someone. Being with strong partners kept you grounded. You needed to be careful not to depend so heavily on others that you forgot how to be self-reliant. Your best relationships were ones where the power was balanced. When you had a lover not clear about their identity, it was essential you didn't try to do everything for them. You had to watch out not to be talked out of a strategy that was a good one. In the long run, being flexible, rather than stubbornly attached to a way of being, made others like you.

Uranus square Neptune

An inner restlessness to pursue your dreams occurred throughout some incarnations. It wasn't easy to concentrate on the present unless you had clear vision. The mental and emotional sides of you were in conflict, especially when you experienced guilt. Integrating intense emotions and a strong intellect took patience. Exerting your independence required faith when there were people standing in your way. There were occasions when you too easily sacrificed your goals and ideals to please others. Balancing your intuition with a realistic assessment of what was truly possible was the big challenge.

Uranus square Node

Following your own whims about the future swept you up with great force. You didn't believe in looking back at the past. The hopes of tomorrow were your reality. Commitments were hard to keep as you quickly felt the pull of a new plan. It was growth-promoting when you offered to be there for those needing you. Instant karma resulted when you refused to learn from yesterday's errors in judgment. You had an inventive and rebellious streak. You could be difficult to understand, which was quite true when becoming too eccentric. Your ideas didn't fit conveniently in with those you loved. When compromising even a little it took the tension out of your relationships. When you gave up too much of your independence, you sensed something was horribly wrong. Finding that center between being reasonable and going after your personal choices took great objective discretion.

Neptune conjunct Node

You incarnated with a strong statement to make about your ideals. Looking for those paths that brought intuitive clarity was your main mission. In the way of this was getting sidetracked by people and causes that appealed to your blind faith. Learning how to distinguish what experiences promoted your growth from those that depleted it was a must. You were quite the dreamer and romantic. Searching for a soul mate and roles that best described you were heartfelt quests. You gave much to those you loved. Denial and escapism were temptations. Keeping these two tendencies in line made you a centered and grounded person. Your inspirational belief in others made them admire you.

Pluto conjunct Midheaven

You didn't like losing control. There was great passion to find the roles that would be empowering and give you a sense of self-mastery. You needed to watch out for excessive desires that were bad for your health. Moderation turned out to be the best way to go. Making commitments to objectives that reflected a true sense of purpose brought great inner strength. The wise use of power was a real challenge.

Just as the Ascendant in the Passport section that began this report was described as a sign serving a special purpose, each of the other eleven houses has a sign that helps define its meaning. What follows is a trip through each of the other past lives houses or environments to give you a view of additional characteristics. First are listed the keywords for each house.

2nd House: Comfort, values, money, ownership.Taurus on 2nd house:

Steady patience was a great ally. Business sense was something you usually possessed. Life went well when you had high self-esteem. Making sure you rewarded yourself when working hard always paid dividends. You eventually found the kind of work that best made a statement about your ability. Though sometimes a fear of change held you back. You were happier and more fun to be around when indulging in a new experience now and then.

3rd House: Perceptions, learning, communication, insight.Pisces on 3rd house:

You followed your feelings and intuitive impulses. They guided your perceptions. If emotionally confused, you didn't think so clearly. So it was important not to let other's opinions bother you. Your mind worked romantically. Looking through rose colored glasses did lead you astray from time to time. Then again your mental impulses could tune right into the truth. Accepting what you really saw took courage. Because you could detect what was really going on in the minds of other people, you had to decide just how much you wanted to know. Denial kept you from clarity. Speaking directly to those you loved came with practice. Standing up to your critics and adversaries grew when you embraced with greater fortitude your most cherished ideals. Certain causes spoke directly to your heart. You absorbed a lot of other people's energies so downtime was essential. Guilt was a shadow that was tormenting. When you found the faith to let go of self-doubt, the heavens seemed to shine down with good fortune.

4th House: Home, security, nurturing, roots.Pisces on 4th house:

You idealized those you loved, unless you became very disillusioned. Reality checks now and then were important to make sure your perceptions of people were accurate. Hiding from the truth caused problems. People sometimes depended on you greatly for emotional support. You needed to be careful in knowing your boundaries or you would give until completely depleted. You enjoyed retreats away from having to feel responsible for others. This was your way of getting recharged. Your sense of security rested upon the faith you had in yourself. You found strength in your ideals.

5th House: Self-expression, creativity, confidence, romance, risk-taking.Aquarius on 5th house:

You boldly expressed ideas. You could be fair on one hand, while arrogant on the other. When it came to defending your rights, you could be quite direct. Inventiveness often blessed you in one life after another. Romances had their ups and downs. You were not always sure just how committed to a lover you cared to be. Freedom needs dictated just how you responded to a partner. You demanded a lot of attention. Developing consistency didn't come easily. When you managed to master your rebellious energy, you could channel it into productive outlets quite successfully. You lived much of the time for your future goals. The present was more tolerable if it met the expectations of your need for opportunity. Some saw you as unreasonable because you hated restrictions. Others envied and admired in the same breath the example you set as far as walking your talk.

6th House: Learning skills, work environment, perfection, diet, health.Capricorn on 6th house:

You applied yourself seriously to the job in front of you. Discipline along with a hard work ethic guided much of your thinking. Becoming a workaholic occurred. You did need to discover that delegating work to others did lighten your load. A tendency to try to do too much of the work on your own grew burdensome. Trusting others to help became a wise policy. You could be tenacious about solving a problem. The trick was figuring out when enough was enough. Learning new trends and habits didn't come easily due to allegiance to the past. Your determination got you over obstacles.

7th House: Relationships, marriage, partnerships, social awareness.Sagittarius on 7th house:

You liked adventurous types. Falling in love was exhilarating. An attraction to broad-minded individuals was a reality. You liked being with someone sharing your values and world-view. An idealistic nature colored the lenses through which you perceived a lover. This doesn't mean you were gullible. You realized that not everyone could be trusted. Your belief in people raised their spirits. Relationships that offered growth caught your attention. Lovers could be changeable and at times not so reliable. You may have had too much faith in them. If someone didn't try to control you, he or she scored points. You did sometimes have a grass is greener outlook, causing you to suddenly leave a lover. Fun loving individuals lifted you out of your lows. You became bored with those that were negatively addicted. Luck more often than not brought you good fortune in meeting the right people at the right time. You could be spontaneous in moving toward a door of opportunity. A gregarious nature brought you into contact with an interesting assortment of peers.

8th House: Power, joint resources, rebirth, passion, self-mastery.Scorpio on 8th house:

The sharing of money and power had to be handled carefully. Knowing whom to trust was a test. Extreme jealousy needed to be moderated. An attachment to the wrong types of people made life difficult. However, when you selected the right partners, you were on top of the world. Dealing with possessive individuals was never easy. You had to learn how to claim your own power. Privacy was dear to your soul. You needed a retreat at times to keep your psyche strong and clear. When you kept life simple, it was easier to be happy. You didn't tend to trust others that quickly. It generally took time to draw close, no matter if the relationship got off to a passionate start. You usually wanted to convince yourself that you could make it on your own. A self-sufficient spirit was with you often. You felt better about joining forces with others, after being sure of your own autonomy.

9th House: travel, learning, philosophy, knowledge, optimism.Virgo on 9th house:

A sober philosophy about life is what you showed. If someone wanted a grounded opinion, you were definitely the person to ask. You preferred to spend your time on practical concerns. It's not that you didn't have any idealism or intuition, but it's more likely these two traits were not the first choice. You carefully weighed your options before making decisions. Impulsive individuals made you nervous. Even your recklessness appears to have been well thought out. Conquering negative thinking made the present more enjoyable as did maintaining a broader perspective.

10th House: Professions, ambition, leadership, focus, commitments.Virgo on 10th house:

Worrying compulsively about the outcome of things did surface. When you delegated work to others, it took a lot of stress off of you. Learning how to let go and trust that life would turn out for the best wasn't easy. Being a workaholic was something you needed to be on the guard about. It was easy for you to forget to pace yourself. You lived longer when you listened and respected your body's plea for a break in the action. The perfection you put into your work did get others to take notice. It was important to realize to know when to stop perfecting. When you believed in your ability, great things happened.

11th house: Goals, individuality, freedom, inventive, progressive, unique.Leo on 11th house:

You approached the future like it was something to conquer. You would roar like a lion when people were infringing upon your rights. Anyone squatting too far into your territory was looking for a fight. Your goals were characteristically self-centered. This didn't bother your lovers and closest friends as long as you weren't too ruthless in going after your aspirations. Your vision could be disruptive of the routines of those not liking your suggestions. Patience was a challenge. In a lifetime or two you were a notorious gambler. Learning to look before leaping was wise. Getting close to you was not all that easy when you were too much in love with your independence. People liked you more when you accepted their right to disagree. Your creative spirit never liked to be held back for long!

12th house: Idealism, intuition, escape, faith, beliefs.Cancer on 12th house:

You preferred not being all that visible. When there was vagueness in making your needs known, confusion resulted. You tended to idealize your closest relationships. This did lead you to sometimes expect too much from people. It was your inspiring belief in those you cared about that did get them to attempt great things. Learning how to regulate closeness and distance in relating to others kept you balanced. Having confidence in your deepest beliefs brought you fulfillment.

Planets in actuality never really move backward, but can appear to do so. This is referred to as retrograde motion, and as you will read has special past life meaning surrounding a particular planet's symbolism. The following are planets that were moving retrograde at your birth with a description as to how this played out for you in other incarnations.

Jupiter retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern that you had a challenge in not foolishly believing in the wrong things or people. When you were on target and accurately assessing situations, you were a dynamo of efficiency and inspiration. Another challenge was in the area of confidence. When you lost faith it took the wind out of your sails. The search for an expansive enough vision was an innate drive. People didn't respond as well if you preached dogma or grew too judgmental. When you kept an open mind there was less friction. You had a capacity to embrace a positive outlook, that is, if self-doubt didn't seep into your thinking. Another challenge was running too fast to where the grass might be greener, running away from facing problems. The optimist in you needed to know limits. When you walked with commonsense and put your ideas into worthwhile actions, the world had no choice but to eventually give into your needs for self-discovery.

Uranus Retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern that you had unique goals, reserved just for you. When you didn't do this, life lacked meaning. When you solely served your own purposes this caused quite a ruffle in the feathers of those you loved and cared about. Finding the midstream worked the best regarding these two extremes of sacrifice and doing your own thing. Your ideas sent shock waves at times when individuals or collective bodies didn't like the message. You did sometimes tap into a collective trend before it became in vogue. It did make you nervous about how you might be judged. Many ideas were kept internalized until you were sure the coast was clear and safe enough to present the notions. Were you ever more outwardly disruptive? For sure! This usually occurred when you were so aroused by injustices or thinking restrictions imposed upon you. There was a need to perceive with fore thought, which fights were worth the struggle. Being different just to be different or starting conflicts with no purpose, were ways you took many steps in the wrong direction. Listening to cues from the universe on which directions promised accelerated growth was wise. Your vision of the future was as strong as the ability to remember what gave your imagination an electrifying sensation. Patience took effort!

Neptune Retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern that you needed to watch out what you asked life for. Do you know why? Because you were apt to get it! A tendency to have a strong intuitive quality was a past pattern. In some incarnations you were quite the poet, artist, entertainer or mystic. Perfection wasn't so nice to you in that divine discontent was troublesome, making it a challenge to be satisfied. When you were reasonable or grounded, life was simpler. Getting focused occurred after becoming inspired. There were times when you had premonitions of things to come. This either gave you great faith or was scary. The more you accepted your sixth sense, the easier it was to express outwardly. Another challenge was achieving discipline and utilizing reality testing. When you made a commitment not to run away from conflict, you found clarity. When letting your ideals guide you, life seemed more magical and full of inspiring symbols. Belief in a higher power sustained you through many tough challenges. Lovers were inspirational in stimulating your creativity. You liked the idea of a special someone with whom to share your dreams. Developing a spiritual understanding and a sacred place within kept you walking on the straight and narrow with great awareness, pointing you to pleasurable escapes, and kept you guilt-free.

Pluto retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern to know your way around Intensity Street. In some lives you were overpowering. In others, you didn't usurp enough power. Having a sense of empowerment was crucial to reaching self-mastery. Survival instincts you possessed. Being emotionally intense was a past pattern. Learning to communicate your feelings made you easier to understand. Self-honesty was liberating but it was a test to admit your faults. Defensiveness had to be conquered. You didn't believe in going halfway when exploring a subject. Compulsive lusts for riches and leadership sometimes brought out your worst manipulative traits. You were happier when feeling inwardly secure and having allies that you could trust. You had to beware of an urge to win at all costs. You found rebirth through not fearing your own shadows, and being big enough not to run from those you loved. You processed experiences long after they occurred, revisiting the past often, healed when able to embrace forgiveness.
